

POLICY FOR THE PREVENTION OF BULLYING

To realise – in mind, body and spirit – the full potential of every member of the St Edmund's Family, through Catholic values, learning, service and leadership.

Avita Pro Fide

St Edmund's is committed to ensuring the welfare and protection of children in its care and this commitment is a fundamental part of the role of every person employed by St Edmund's.

The aim of the policy is to ensure that St Edmund's is able to provide a caring and supportive Christian community for all its members and to ensure that bullying will not be tolerated as it may cause psychological damage and could even lead to suicide; at the very least, it prevents students from making the most of their time at St Edmund's.

St Edmund's views bullying as persistent acts of unkindness by one or more students against another individual or group of students. It can take many forms, but includes harassment, physical (e.g. hitting, kicking, theft), verbal (e.g. name calling, teasing, racist remarks, homophobic language), indirect (e.g. spreading rumours, excluding someone from social groups) or cyber bullying (e.g. use of internet sites, internet messaging, sending of photographs, email or text). St Edmund's has a separate Prevention of Cyberbullying Policy.

It is the policy of St Edmund's to actively discourage bullying as well as to take positive measures through the pastoral programme to educate all students to understand why action deemed to be bullying is wrong.

It is the job of all members of St Edmund's to challenge bullying wherever and whenever it occurs and it is the responsibility of every member of staff to deal sensitively but effectively with any incidents that are reported to them. Staff must also be careful that their own actions are not perceived as bullying and to this end they should carefully read the staff Code of Conduct.

IMPLEMENTATION OF PREVENTION OF BULLYING POLICY

If bullying is suspected or reported:

- The incident will be addressed immediately by the member of staff who suspects bullying is taking place or who has been approached;
- A clear account of the incident will be recorded in writing and given to the Housemaster/Housemistress or Head of Year who will interview those concerned. The Deputy Head (Pastoral) will be informed and the incident and outcome(s) logged.
- This must be co-ordinated with the Designated Safeguarding Lead so that the central bullying log is maintained.
- The Deputy Head (Pastoral) will decide (in consultation with the HSM/HOY) on action to be taken. If necessary, the Designated Safeguarding Lead will take a decision as to whether Child Protection procedures are to be implemented, where necessary in discussion with the Head. If so, the matter will also be recorded in the Child Protection log and dealt with accordingly,

- including referral to Children's Social Care if appropriate.
- House Tutors and teachers will be kept informed as appropriate and will monitor the situation both during and following the process.
- Parents will be kept informed.

In line with the School's Behaviour Policy, the following actions and sanctions may be applied to any student/s considered to be at fault of bullying behaviour;

- Pastoral conversation
- Meeting with parents
- Put on report to monitor behaviour towards others
- College/HSM/SLT Detention
- Suspension from St Edmund's for serious or repeated offences.
- Permanent Exclusion from St Edmund's for serious or repeated offences.

Support for the target and perpetrator

Consideration should always be given to the possibility of and need for further support, either informally or formally (i.e. counselling); bullies can often be or have been the target of bullying themselves and/or the offence unintentional; the 'target' of the bullying may also benefit from thinking about strategies on how to keep him or herself free from harassment in the future.

Signs of Bullying

Students who are being bullied may show changes in behaviour for example becoming shy or nervous, feigning illness, taking unusual absences or clinging to adults. There may be changes to work patterns, a lack of concentration or truancy. This is not an exhaustive list and students, staff and parents should be alert to any signs that might indicate that bullying is taking place.

Guidelines and support for Students

Students who are being bullied, or believe that someone else is, must report the matter straight away. The report can be made to any member of staff, teaching or non-teaching, but in particular, Tutor, Housemaster/Housemistress, Head of Year, Assistant Head Safeguarding & Wellbeing, Assistant Head Pastoral, Deputy Head Pastoral or to the Deputy Head Religious Life. Where possible the school will always aim to reconcile the bully and the bullied, but in more severe cases this is not always possible in the short term. Regular review of the situation is therefore of paramount importance and support measures are put in place to support both the victim and the bully. This can range from a regular talk with the tutor, HSM/HOY or Assistant Head Safeguarding & Wellbeing through to counselling sessions with the School Counsellor. The Priest in Residence is also a useful member of the anti-bullying 'team'.

St Edmund's has a 'zero tolerance' attitude towards any kind of 'initiation ceremonies' that might, intentionally or otherwise, cause distress, pain or humiliation.

Keeping silent protects bullies and gives them the message that they can continue.

Guidelines for Parents

Parents whose son or daughter reports a case of bullying, or who suspect their son or daughter is being bullied, should inform St Edmund's immediately, so it can be addressed in a timely manner and to avoid a situation becoming worse. The report can be made to any teacher, Tutor, Housemaster/Housemistress, Head of Year, or member of SLT.

Guidelines to all Staff

All staff need to be alert to signs of bullying and must act promptly and firmly against it. Failure to respond to incidents may be interpreted as condoning the behaviour.

Staff must be particularly vigilant at breaks, in the corridors, in the toilets, in the grounds and in the classroom. They should be aware that bullying might take place during fixtures or educational visits or on the bus to or from St Edmund's. Staff should also be aware of cyber bullying in all its forms. Staff must be aware of the potential for bullying in the Boarding situation and be proactive to prevent it.

If a member of staff suspects that bullying is taking place, they should report it to the Housemaster/Housemistress or Head of Year who will take a written account from the student(s)., Where there is a safeguarding concern, this should be reported following the College safeguarding procedures.

Preventing and dealing with bullying is covered within the Safeguarding briefing in INSET and staff are also directed to 'Preventing and Tackling Bullying (July 2017)' published by the DfE.

The PSHE programme will enhance the policy, by dealing with the topic of bullying – exploring why it happens and giving alternative and acceptable ways of behaviour. St Edmund's will work through PSHE and its pastoral system to promote the positive attitudes that can make bullying unacceptable in the Community. The anti-bullying message will be reinforced through assemblies, house meetings, school council and tutor group work.

The Deputy Head (Pastoral) will keep records of any bullying to enable patterns to be identified and reported to the Headmaster. The Deputy Head (Pastoral) will report to the Governors' Academic Sub-Committee on the amount of bullying and the success of the policy, termly.

This policy will be reviewed each year by the academic sub-committee of the Governors or earlier if appropriate.
